About Öhman

Öhman is an independent investment group with Swedish financial markets operations dating back to 1906. Today, Öhman has offices in Stockholm, Malmö, Luxembourg, Helsinki and New York.

Öhman offers a broad cross-section of high-quality financial services - in particular securities trading and asset management. We are strong believers in continuity and long-term planning. Despite our strong traditions, however, we are constantly looking ahead for new challenges and opportunities.

It is our firm belief that by keeping our ears to the ground and by maintaining an open attitude to new ideas and requirements, we can preserve and cultivate the confidence of our customers as well as the competence and know-how of our staff, generated over decades as an independent player on the Swedish financial markets.

It is this conviction that has driven Öhman's investments in modern technology to new heights - our early efforts with NordNet, for example, have led to the creation of the Nordic countries largest online broker.
